

Footer

Note that portions of the default footer (Powered by Atlassian Confluence and Zen Foundation) may be required by your license:

- The Atlassian EULA requires the "Powered by Atlassian Confluence" link to appear on all pages
- The Zen Foundation EULA requires the "Zen Foundation" link for Free license holders.

You can add a Site footer using the Zen Site Settings menu item in the Admin Console. In the Site Settings panel, click the the Footer option. This will be either a "click to create" option, or a "click to view" option, depending on whether a Footer exists. Both links will open the Footer:

Please read Broken Links and Images on Zen Pages to ensure your footers display properly.
